

LogicSource is a leader in sourcing and procurement services to consumer facing businesses. We bring deep expertise in the retail, restaurant and consumer-facing verticals. We are exclusively focused on execution-based solutions that create sustainable value by driving down costs, reducing cycle time and mitigating supply chain risk.

While we provide empirical advice and counsel to our clients, our business model is grounded in execution-based sourcing and procurement, not consulting. We implement the solutions we design for our clients and leverage our proprietary OneMarket® technology which connects buyers, suppliers as well as our shared services center. Workflow automation and powerful business intelligence drives enhanced savings, cycle time reduction and improved communication throughout the value chain.

At LogicSource, we so firmly believe in creating sustainable value that we make a significant upfront investment to deliver a fully transparent, customized solution for each client. And we make this investment with no strings attached, no contracts made. We are the only solutions provider to do so.

The success of our business is grounded in performance which has led to a diverse client portfolio of industry leading companies and a best-in-class retention rate.

Learn more from LogicSource CEO, David Pennino, by viewing this short video presentation.

Let's Talk - email Sales@logicsource.com